Eco Nail Systems Accelerating Complex

Concentrates to Condition Cuticles While Soaking Off UV Gel Product and Finishing Wipe Concentrate to Clean the Nail Plate and Tacky Layer from Gels!

Valencia, CA – December 1, 2010

Soak off gels are becoming one of the most asked for systems in the industry globally but there are two key components to the system that are very costly & hazardous to export overseas: Finishing Wipe and the Soak Off Solution. Due to the highly flammable nature of the products Star Nail has developed two concentrates that can be added to your everyday acetone or alcohol.

The easy-to-use Accelerated Complex Kit contains two ½ oz bottles with pre-measured droppers to make for quick and clean mixing of the proper ratios. The 1/2oz. bottles contain enough concentrate solution to mix an average of 8-10 gallons alcohol and/or acetone. The kit contains step-by-step mixing ratios to give any nail novice the proper mixology guide quickly!

- Accelerated Finishing Wipe Concentrate: Added to alcohol for cleansing the nail plate prior to applying gels or is used after the last layer gel and final cure has taken place. This formula effectively removes the tacky layer left behind by any type of gel. This gives the crystal clear, glassy like finish for gels.
- Accelerated Soak Off Solution Concentrate: a few drops can be added to acetone for gently removing soak-off gel enhancements. The solution hydrates, conditions cuticles and sidewalls of the nail beds while removing product easily without damage or excessive scraping to the natural nails.

Once both of the solutions are mixed into the alcohol or acetone remember to always shake the mixed product together before using on each client. This will effectively ensure the products maximum benefits.
